EPIGRAPHIA CARNATICA, VOLUME XIV.

PREFACE.

MYSORE, like some other parts of the Dakhan, is extraordinarily rich in epigraphical records. Some of the inscriptions attracted the attention of archæologists even as early as the days of Col. Mackenzie at the commencement of the 19th century.

In 1879 Mr. B. L. Rice published a small volume of Mysore Inscriptions collected by him as a hobby. In 1884 he was appointed as Director of Archæological Researches in Mysore and commenced a regular Archæological Survey of Mysore and Coorg. The first volume of the series was published in 1886 and contained the Coorg Inscriptions. In 1889 appeared the second volume containing the inscriptions of Sravanabelagola. In 1890 a regular Archæological Department was formed by the Government of Mysore. Mr. Rice and his staff conducted a systematic survey of the State for copying inscriptions. The results were published in volumes III to XII of the Epigraphia Carnatica and the series was completed in 1906. For each district Mr. Rice was able to publish the texts of the inscriptions, their transliterations, and in most cases the translations also. He has added introductions which reviewed the history of each district as gathered from the local records. The total number of records published by him was close upon 9,000. This great work gave the Mysore State the leading place in India for progress in Epigraphical Survey.

Mr. R. Narasimhachar who succeeded Mr. Rice in 1906 as the head of the Survey found that there were many more inscriptions existing than Mr. Rice had published. During the sixteen years he held the office, one of the important duties he set to himself was to re-survey the State and collect the remaining inscriptions. He also re-read the inscriptions which had not been fully dealt with previously. When he laid down his office in 1922, he was able to report that the new epigraphs deciphered and dealt with during the period of his office were about 5,000. Some of the most important of these inscriptions were noticed by him in the annual reports of the department, but the texts and facsimiles of only a few were published. Since the 'Inscriptions of Sravanabelagola' was out of print, Mr. Narasimhachar prepared and got printed a revised and enlarged volume of the inscriptions which was published in 1923, as Vol. II of the Epigraphia Carnatica. This incorporated his collections at that place with those of Mr. Rice. The texts of the inscriptions collected by him in the Mysore, Hassan, Tumkur and Bangalore districts were also prepared and sent to the press and it was his desire to see them published as supplementary volumes of the Epigraphia Carnatica series. In 1922 the department was subjected to post-war retrenchment and it was found difficult to complete the translations, notes and introductions required for the supplementary volumes with the reduced staff. The work of printing the texts, however, was continued.

The inscriptions collected after the year 1922 have however been published in each year's annual report so that only those collected between 1906 and 1922 have remained unpublished. It is now arranged to publish these in a series of volumes as Volume XIV, XV, XVI, XVII, XVIII and XIX of the Epigraphia Carnatica series. Volume XIII is the Index to the twelve volumes of the original Epigraphia Carnatica: the first part containing letters 'A' to 'K' was published in 1934; and the second part consisting of the letters 'L' to 'Z' is in the press and will be published as soon as it is ready. Volume XIV contains the texts and transliterations of about 750 inscriptions, new or revised and collected in the Mysore District between the years 1906 and 1914. Volume, XV, XVI, XVII, XVIII and XIX will contain the texts and transliterations of the supplementary inscriptions of the districts of Hassan, Tumkur, Bangalore, Shimoga and Kolar. It is proposed in due course to complete the translations, introductions, etc., and publish them as further volumes of the series.

Scholars accustomed to the arrangement in the original volumes of the Epigraphia Carnatica would, perhaps, miss in these volumes the translations and introductions. But it has been thought advisable to publish the texts without further delay. A dynastic table added to each volume, however, gives a very brief summary of the contents of the inscriptions published in a classified form. My thanks are due to the assistants, pandits and the other members of the office staff and to the Superintendent, Government Press, Bangalore, and the Assistant Superintendent, Government Branch Press, Mysore, for varied help in publishing this volume.

Contents and remarks

The record tells us that Vishṇuvardhana confirmed the grant made to the Kaṇvēśvara temple at Kannambāḍi by Kannara-dēva. The temple is called Kannēśvara in another inscription at the place and the Rāshṭrakūṭa King Kṛishṇa I and the Kannēśvara of the Kaḍaba plates (Gubbi 61) are identified with Kannaradēva of this record and the temple of Kaṇvēśvara at Kannambāḍi.

Records that the manṭapa in front of the Lakshmīdēvi temple in the Śrī Lakshmi Nārāyaṇasvāmi temple at Toṇṇur was constructed by Heggaḍe Surigeya Nāgayya as per the orders of the king.

Records the construction of a Śiva temple at Ingilikanakuppe by Bammaṇa of the Baḷegārakula; another inscription behind records a grant to the same temple.

Records that the Śāntīśvara Basti at Kambadahaḷḷi in the Nāgamangala Taluk was built by Boppa, son of Gangarāja general of Vishṇuvardhana. The name of the architect was Drōohagharaṭṭāchāri.

Records that a female servant Kīrtinārāyaṇa Talaikkōli, presented a gold image of the goddess to be fixed on the breast of the God Kīrtinārāyaṇa and that she was made the recipient of certain honours in the same temple.

Records that 200 kuḷis of land were purchased and presented to the temple of Kīrtinārāyaṇa for a flower garden by Valandaramperumāḷ Talaikkōli who is probably the same as Kīrtinārāyaṇa Talaikkōli of Tn. 178.

Records that the village Gānjanūr was granted to the God Śingapperumāḷ of Jātigrāma (Mārehaḷḷi). [The date cannot be assigned to Vishṇuvardhana if we accept 1141 as the date of his death].

The inscription found on the door lintel of the Śrīpāda-Tīrtha pond in the Rāmānujāchārya temple at Sāligrāma is of great interest as it seems to confirm in a way the traditional account of Rāmanujāchārya's visit to Sāligrāma. It records that Embār, Āṇḍan and Āchān of the Maṭha at Śrīrangam granted some privileges to the Śrīvaishṇavas of Sāligāve. The above individuals were the immediate disciples of Rāmānujāchārya, the first two being his close relatives also.

Fragmentary: Title of King given as lord of Gangapāḍi. The king is stated to have visited the village Duggākara and to have made grants to god Narasimha.

States that the people of Kellūr, Tiraiyūr and Kaṇṇamangala met together and made a grant for the God Narasimha.

Records a grant to Śivayōgi Dharmapuri Bhaṭṭa by Vishṇuvardhana, along with his mother (tammavve) Tuḷuvala Dēvi and elder brother Nripabhūpa?

Vīragal—Records that Māragavuḍa killed many and fell in the battle of Hiriya . . . . . and that a Koḍige was granted to his wife Sōmavve.

Records a grant to a maṭha of Rāmānuja (The words used are Irāmānujan muḍintha).

Mentions the deposit of a certain sum of money with the worshipper of the Mallikārjuna temple at Taḍimālingi, the interest of which was to be utilised for the maintenance of a perpetual lamp.

Records the grant of Modaliyahaḷḷi for the services of Śāntinātha at Kambadahaḷḷi to Mariyāne Daṇḍanāyaka and Bharatimayya Daṇḍanāyaka disciples of Gaṇḍavimukta Siddhāntadēva.

Records a gift of money for perpetual lamps. Fragmentary gift of three gajjāṇam by Viṭṭiyaṇṇa Perkaḍi. Biṭṭiyaṇṇa was a famous general under Vishṇuvardhana also.

Similar to the above.

Contents and Remarks

Grant for the god Janārdana at Taḍimālangi by Sōmaṇṇa Oḍeyar's (Vīra Sōmaṇṇa-Nāyaka) mother Sāyamma, for some festivals.

Grant of certain lands to Kāmayya as a Sarvamānya by some one for the merit of Narasaṇa Nāyaka.

Grant of the village Uyyamballi for the God Rāmayadēva of Kittūr by Tipparasa, minister of mahāmēdinīmiśeyara-gaṇḍa Kaṭhâri Sāḷuva Narasimarājavarma Rāya.

Restoration of the Agrahāra of Sōmanāthapura by Īśvara's son Narasimha by the order of the King. Gives details of grants to various Brahmans and the temples at Sōmanāthapura made by Nanjarāya Oḍeyar under his orders.

Records that the minister Simhabhūpati, son of Mādarasa granted the village Dāḷiga for the God Lakshmīkānta at Maisūr.

Gives the usual genealogy of the Tuḷuvas down to Vīranarasimha brother of Kṛishṇarāya.

Records the gift by the King of the village Kaigoṇḍapaḷḷi to Nanjehebbāruva and others at the time of making the gift Saptasāgara in the presence of the God Śiva in Śrīsaila. The date 1463 is too early for Vīra Narasiṃha.

This much worn record names Bhujabala Rāya and records a grant to a Lingāyat guru of the maṭha at Yaragamballi. It is not clear why Bhujabalarāya a title of Vīra Narasimha occurs in this record the date of which falls in the reign of his younger brother Kṛishṇarāya.

Grant of the village Hirijaṭṭiga by the King to Śrīnivāsādhvari (titles pada-vākya-pramāṇajna, expounder of the śāstras, kāvyas and purāṇas, etc.) the performer of the Atirātra Sacrifice: the division of the village into vrittis by the donee is also recorded. Sabhāpati is named as the composer of the grant, and Mallaṇāchārya as the engraver. The village was to be renamed Chinnādēvīpura and the grant is said to have been made in the presence of the god Gangādhara of Śivaganga.

Grant to Gōvindarāja the Guru of Kings and the Guru of Kṛishṇarāya himself of the village Maṇṭheya (same as Maṇḍeya). Gōvindarāja is said to be a descendant of Anantāchārya on whom the God Venkatēśa is said to have placed a garland.

Records a grant for the god Vijayanātha (in the Pārśvanātha basti at Chāmarājanagar) by Kāmayya Nāyaka's son Vīrayya Nāyaka the Mahāprabhu of Arikuṭhāra.

A grant (by Gōvindarāja) on the auspicious ocasion of the birth of a son to the King

A grant of lands to the Mahājanas of Ālakeṟe by the King's Chief Minister Sāḷuva Gōvindarājayya.

Grant to Oḍeyara-Tibba-Seṭṭi's son Lakshmīpati Seṭṭi by the Fifty-two (first disciples of Rāmānujāchārya) who agreed to offer some rice to the god Chelapiḷerāya out of temple funds and feed Śrīvaishṇavas with a portion of the same in the name of the donee's father.

Sāḷuva Gōvindarāju, son of Rājarāju of Kauṇḍinya gōtra granted the village Hosapura in Mūgur-sthaḷa for the god Agastyēśvara of Tirumakūḍalu, the Dakshina-vāraṇāsi.

Records a grant to the God Āḷvāru Dēvaru for the car-festival at Terakaṇāmbi by Sāḷuva Gōvinda Rājayya, minister of Kṛishṇa Rāya.

Contents and Remarks

Records the gift of the village Kalavūr renamed Kṛishṇāpura by Sāḷuva Gōvindarājaiya for Brahmans. At the end of the record is a stanza Madhu Kaiṭabha, etc., which is quoted from Anargharāghava of Murāri.

Copper plate grant in Vyāsarāya maṭha at Sōsale: the village Jakkarājanahaḷḷi surnamed Krishṇarāyapura was granted by the King to the ascetic Vyāsatīrtha, disciple of Brahmaṇyatīrtha. The King's genealogy is given in the usual manner and Sabhāpati is named as the composer and Vīraṇāchārya as the engraver of the grant.

Gift of the village Kannērumaḍugu in the Kanakagiridēśa by the King to the above Vyāsatīrtha.

Grant for the God Triyambakēśvara of the village Triyambakapura by the King.

Sale of land by Śivanasoḍeya's Vīra-Oḍeya to the Jangama Mallayya's son Channamallaiya in the presence of Kenchasōmaṇa Nāyaka. The latter had been granted Channapaṭṇa-sīme for his office of Nāyak by King Kṛishṇarāya.

Sale deed executed by the Fifty-two in favour of [Ka] ndāḍa Rāmānujaiyyangār.

Grant of a village named Avubhaḷapura for a Rāmānujakūṭa by Āchirāja-Avubhaḷarājayya's son Venkaṭādri Rāja.

Records a grant to the Lingāyats by Tagaḍūr Mallarāja Oḍeyar's son Nanjarājayya.

Grant of certain villages to the temple of Nārāyaṇa at Melkoṭe by Kṛishṇarāya Nāyaka son of Daṇḍu Avubhaḷa Dēva by the order of the King for his merit. At the end of the inscription there occurs the statement that as formerly the raiyats of the temple district used to be carried off to Toṇḍanūr for ploughing the wet lands there, those lands are also granted.

Grant of Moraḍiyapura to Mahājīyaguru by Sāḷuva Gōvindarāja Voḍeyar.

Grant of the village Dēvapuri in Śrīrangapaṭṭaṇa-sīme which had been bestowed for the office of nāyak on him by Chammaṭi Bhōgayadēva-mahāarasu son of Timmarāja for food-offerings, lamps, etc., for the goddess in the Ranganātha temple at Seringapatam renaming the village Nāgalāpura after the Queen Nāgalāmbā.

Records the gift of some land by Sāḷuva Gōvinda Rāja for the God Narasimha at T.-Narsipur.

Label: Śrī Vyāsarāja. This label tells us that the brass-plated doorway of the navaranga of the Gunjānarasimha temple at T.-Narsipur was the gift of Vyāsarāya, who according to tradition was identical with Vyāsatīrtha, disciple of Brahmaṇyatīrtha.

Records the gift of the village Māraḍiyapura (Maraḍīpura) as an agrahāra.

Grant of land for lamps for the god Mūlasthānadēva of Mārihaḷḷi in Hoysaḷa-sīme by some one (Tipaṇa-nayakā ?) for the merit of the King Achyuta [The date is too early for Achyuta].

Mallarasaiya, agent for the affairs of Chikka Singaṇa Nāyaka, son of Hiriya Singaṇa Nāyaka who was Achyutarāya's dear son granted an umbaḷi to Mādarasaiya.

An agreement between the Fifty-two (Śrīvaishṇavas of Mēlkōṭe) and Harigila Abbarāja's son Perirāja that the latter had to restore certain tanks and the former agreed to measure out four koḷagas of rice every day from the temple treasury and offer it to the god Chellapiḷerāya as an act of Perirāja's charity.

Grant of certain taxes for the god Dēśēśvara (of Mōgūr) by Dēvapa with the consent of Sankaṇṇa.

HEGGAḌADĒVANAKŌṬE CHIEFS.

Records the gift of a gilt kalaśa on an (umbrella to the Varadarājasvāmi temple at Heggaḍadēvanakōṭe) by Heggoḍe. The record is written in inverted characters and has to be read with the help of a mirror. The characters are modern. An inventory of the temple articles found in the Taluk Office gives the name of the donor as Heggaḍe Dēvarāja Oḍeyar after whom Heggaḍadēvanakōṭe is said to be named.

MYSORE KINGS.

The king acknowledges the suzerainty of the Vijayanagar king Venkaṭapatirāya. He is said to be the son of Chāmarasa Oḍeyar of Mysore and to have belonged to the Ātrēyagōtra and Āśvalāyanasūtra. The record registers his grant of lands some of which he had received as a kodagi from Tirumalarājayya, son of Venkaṭapati Rāya's elder brother Rāmarājayya for a Rāmānujakūṭa and a Chhatra in the Janārdana temple at Beḷgoḷa for the Brahmans.

Copper plates : The king acknowledges the suzerainty of the Vijayanagar king Rāmadēvarāya. The king's genealogy is given thus ; Rājabhūpāla ; his son Narasarāja maried Honnamāmbā ; their son Chāmarāja. He is stated to be the lord of the celebrated throne of Bhōja in Seringapatam. He made a grant of certain villages (Honnalagere, etc.) to the minister Rāmājayya Virūpākshayya Gōvindayya.

Stone inscription, similar in contents to the previous number.

Label on the pedestal of the king's statue in the Narasimha temple at Seringapatam gives the king's name Kaṇṭhīrava Narasarāja Vaḍeyaru.

Copper plate. It gives the genealogy thus: Chāmarāja : his son Dēvarāja, his son Dēvarāja. The titles, Mūrumanneyagaṇḍa, Pararāyabhayankara and Hindurāya suratrāṇa are applied to him. His gift of certain villages Chandakavāḍi, etc., to Mantramūrti Rājarājēndrabhārati svāmi is recorded.

Copper plate: Gives a similar genealogy : Records a gift by the king at the time of making svarṇa-tulādāna gift of the village Lakkūr to the astrologer Lakkappa.

Stone inscription : Records a money grant by Pāyaṇṇa, disciple of Chārukīrti-paṇḍita for services in the temple of Ādīśvara at Seringapatam.

Contents and Remarks

Records a grant of land to a resident of Talkāḍ by the king.

The label Doḍḍadēvarāja-varada is inscribed on the mutilated metallic image in the Vijayanārāyaṇa temple at Gundlupet. It is said that the image originally belonged to the Paravāsudēva temple built at Guṇḍlupet.

Copper plates with a Boar seal: The king's genealogy is traced from the Moon to Yadu and from him to Beṭṭa Chāmarāṭ and down to Dēvarāja, younger brother of Rāja-nripa, who conquered Tirumalarāja. Dēvarāja had four sons, Doḍḍa Dēvarāja, Chikka Dēvarāja, Dēvarāja and Mariya Dēvarāja. The third made an agrahāra at the Maṇikarṇikākshētra to the north-east of Seringapatam. Doḍḍa Dēvarāja's son was Chikkadēvarāja. His conquests of Śambhu, Kutupasāha, Basava of Ikkeri, Ekōji, Dādōji, Jaitaji and Jasavant. His queen was Dēvamāmbā, daughter of the Bālēndunagara (Yaḷandur) chief Lakshmavarma. He gave prominence to the Vajra-makuṭī festival and inaugurated Gajēndra festival at Melkōṭe. For the merit of his father he built a large temple for the god Paravāsudēva on the west bank of the Kauṇḍini (near Gundlupet) and made an agrahāra for the 3 sects of Brahmans. Another agrahāra was made by the king to the north-west named Dvitīya Śataka for the Śrīvaishṇavas only of whom he was always a favourite: the composer of the grant is named Rāmāyaṇaṃ Tirumalârya.

Records the gift of two gold ornaments by the king to the Narāyaṇa temple at Mēlkōṭe.

Records that the Mantapa to the north of the pond known as Kalyāṇi was caused to be erected by the queen Dēvājammaṇṇi.

Records that Koṭṭūraiya, agent for the affairs of Chikka Dēvarāja set up the god Mallēśa at Karivana (Talkāḍ).

Records that the padmapīṭha of the metallic image of the Varāha temple at Mysore was a present from the king Apratima Chikka-Dēva-Rāja Oḍeyar.

Palm leaf copy of a copper plate inscription, one of the longest inscriptions in Mysore genealogy, etc., similar to Seringapatam 64 and 100. Kṛishṇa Rāja was the son of Kanṭhīravēndra (son of Chikka Dēvarāja Voḍeyar) and Chaluvājamāmbā, born of the Kaḷile family. The King is said to have made an agrahāra in Kaḷilenagara and granted six villages Kesavinahaḷḷi, Sūrahaḷḷi, etc., three on the occasion of his marriage and the other three on the birth of a son and dividing them into 43 vrittis bestowed them on Brahmans. The composer of the grant was Rāmāyaṇam Tirumalāchārya.

Another nirup of the same reign. Contains a sale deed by Tirumalāchārya to Chaluvaiya Arasu of Kaḷale for the Lakshmīkāntasvāmi temple at Kaḷale of certain vrittis received by him as a gift from Tirumalayyangārayya (who was the minister of Chikka Dēva Rāja Oḍeyar).

Gift of a silver pitcher by Nāchāramma and Tiruvēngaḍamma, wives of Rāmāyaṇam Tirumalāchārya to the Narasimha temple at Mēlkōṭe. On another side of the vessel is an inscription stating that it is the gift of Kṛishṇarāja Oḍeyarayya. (The vessel is found in the Nārāyaṇa temple at Mēlkōṭe).

Records that the gōpura of the Triṇayanēśvara temple at Mysore was built by Nanjarāja, chief of Kaḷale. The architect is named Lingāchāri.

Annual grant made by the Rāṇuve of Kuṇigal out of their pay for the Rāmānujakūṭa in the Nārāyana temple at Mēlkōṭe, the charity to be managed by Lakshmīkumāra Kōtikanyādānam Tātāchārya's grandson Venkaṭanarasimhāchārya.

Sale deed executed by the king of the village Chikkakāṭi in favour of Sītārāma Sōmayāji and Rangubhaṭṭa.

Another sale deed executed by the king selling the village Chikka Ḍonkihaḷḷi in Turuvekere sthaḷa to Venkaṭarāmaiya for 1,446 varahas.
